TOTAL OFFENSE:

This section recognizes some other players, in particular, option quarterbacks, who otherwise would not receive the notice they deserve. These players have contributed to some of the greatest all-round performances ever in this state. The criteria, is different for each category. In single game stats I have chosen players who have either ran and passed for 200 yards EACH in a single game or who had a near equal effort in both areas and gained at least 400 total yards.

In single season records I included notable efforts by a quarterback who gained at least either: 1000 yards passing and rushing and totaled at least 2250 yards on the season or a player who ran and passed well and earned All-State honors. Because until 1990's, many players were not part of the offensive explosion that has occurred as of late nor were they a part of the 14 game playoff season. A prime example is Marc Hujak of Kenosha Tremper who only played for two seasons as a starting quarterback. Since the playoffs were very limited in the number of teams that qualified in his era, he had no chance to add to his offensive totals as a member of several great teams in 1979 and 1980. His record was 22-0-0 and two Division 1 State Championships! Only 5'8", he went on to play defense at Northwestern and even started several games at quarterback.

The career totals are based on a minimum of 5000 yards total in a career with at least 1000 yards of that total in rushing yards. Many quarterbacks would qualify under the total yards category if I was just including their passing yards and I have noted several players so you can see where some of them ranked but I have limited my listings of those "passing" quarterbacks. Those noted are the two players leading the career passing list, Ben Hempel and Ben Gardow.

Note: Next to a player who passed or ran for touchdowns there may be a +. If you see 11+6 or 37+9 that is saying that the player threw for 11 td's and threw 6 2pt. conversions. The 37+9 will mean that they ran for 37 td's and scored 9 2pt. conversions. If you see 37/34 that means he accounted for 37 touchdowns, passing and rushing and he kicked 34 extra points.
